CROP 1928

Foreword

WITH the exception of Golden Spur, Victoria, Vanilla and Glory of Sassenheim, the American grown Narcissus have proved to be much better than was expected a few years ago. If it were not for a few bicolor varieties which seem to develop poor resistance to transit and subsequent storage conditions, the culture of these bulbs could be called entirely successful. The Mobjack Bay region of Virginia with its dependable rainfall, cool ocean breezes, long mild fall and early spring weather, broken by two or three spells of heavy frosts during winter, has undoubtedly produced the finest bulbs ever raised in America. It is strange how many people think that Virginia is a hot weather state, it surely is not that by any means along its wonderful seaboard, for there is skating every winter where we are located and the shores are dotted with the summer homes of the wealthy who seek relief from oppressive temperatures elsewhere.

The bulbs we produce in this Narcissus paradise are unusually floriferous. Small splits even contain buds, and three to four flowers in double-nosed bulbs is nothing unusual.

The most careful check on bulbs received by us from other sections or by our friends in the trade has failed to disclose the existence of any bulb producing center which offers better or even the same allround advantages in quality of bulbs, freight connections and close proximity to the large cities, as does the coastal region of Virginia.

We believe that the insufficient resistance of Golden Spur and of some Bicolors can be overcome by cultural methods. We have a very promising experiment under observation. If this proves to be of permanent benefit it will then be safe again to list the old favorites. In the meantime it is advisable to insist upon a thirty day guarantee of sound keeping quality of bicolors and of Golden Spur, offered from any section, or to discard the troublesome varieties altogether for the time being.

We have enlarged our list of commercial varieties and reduced some prices considerably. We have bought up one of the finest collections of new Narcissus and moved it to Virginia, paying up to $40.—per bulb for the most exquisite red crowns.

Visitors welcome at all times of the year.

RED CROWNED DAFFODILS

WE have been surprised to note, when ladies visit our American nurseries at blooming time, how soon they tire of looking at the huge trumpet Narcissus we grow and how sustained their interest is in the various forms and shades of the red cups. Until we observed this tendency, we did not appreciate what a really large latent field of sales awaits the enterprising retailer who succeeds in turning the spotlight of advertising upon this class of Narcissus. Many of the visitors had never heard of a red and yellow or a red and white "Jonquil," much less seen them except perhaps the poorest forms like "Poets" or "Conspicuous." As a rule the men were for size, a "Prince of Wales" or "Whistler" or "Robert Sydenham" impressed them the most, but the ladies went for "Lucifer," "Bernardino," "Bath's Flame", "Horace", "Admiration" and a host of others showing either orange or red markings. "Southern Gem" with its snow white petalage and lemon yellow cup also came in for much praise, and when we showed that many of the bulbs produced three and four flowers, it promptly was put down in the notebook.

The bulbs of these exquisite varieties invariably travel well and stand up excellently under storage conditions. The American-grown stocks of them do better in pots and in bulb fibre than the Holland bulbs used to do and they bloom exceptionally well in the garden where most of them establish themselves in permanent clumps.

The English hybridizers of Narcissus are bending their energies to the production of better red-and-orange crowned Narcissus. Some of their creations are magnificent beyond description. In Europe, especially in England and Holland, these newer, more cheerful looking types are "all the rage," they fill the larger part of the shows and draw the greatest amount of attention. We believe that the increased attention given to the Narcissi in the U. S. A. will turn to the red-tinted types as they become better known, and firmly believing in what we say, we present herewith a new division of types and colors.

Unfortunately we cannot stand back of this variety as to the yellow color, the flowers, for a most mysterious reason, often become more or less green after a few years of growth in America. This tendency is especially pronounced when the bulbs are used for forcing.

CUT-FLOWER MIXTURE

For Cutting and Naturalizing

Under American methods of production, from 5 to 10 per cent. of our named varieties are not accounted for in the first digging, but subsequent turning of the soil and frequent harrowing bring up a great many bulbs which all go into a general mixture. The small bulbs are planted again, the strong flowering bulbs are sold. This mixture is very uneven in size of bulbs, containing the newest and largest trumpets as well as Barrii and Incomp. varieties. We do not hesitate to recommend this mixture for forcing from February 15th on. Many double-nosed bulbs will give two and three flowers. For planting in borders, or for naturalizing, this superb representative mixture is better than anything hitherto imported. We stake our reputation on the above statements.

GLADIOLUS

(CROP 1927)

CONTRARY to the many adverse crop reports, we have no fault to find with this year's harvest of our Gladiolus stocks. We never had a finer crop.

We have reduced many prices and we can take care of more business than last year. We do believe that there is some fire where there is much smoke and that some sections in the U. S. A. suffered a set-back. On that account we expect a rapid clean-up of first size corms.

We heartily recommend Odin as the finest all-purpose Gladiolus of recent times. Color, size, health and earliness leave nothing to be desired. It has strong, straight stems. A dozen No. II. bulbs will be mailed again, free of charge, on April 1st next, to every applicant who writes for it on trade stationery.

We have grown good Gladioli for forty years.

COLD STORAGE GLADIOLI

For late June, July and August planting we can recommend our process of cold-storing Gladioli, as it has produced excellent results. We have bulbs in cold storage now (September 25) for October planting which look as sound and dormant as when they were first put in. Cold storage lots are packed to order only, in neat cases containing from 250 to 1,000 specially examined top-size bulbs.

GLADIOLUS SEED

Saved from the best large flowering varieties, this seed will surely produce very interesting varieties. Per pound, $20.00; half pound, $12.00. No orders accepted for less than half a pound. About 10,000 seeds to the ounce.

TRITOMA, "PFITZERI" (See page 19)

DIELYTRA SPECTABILIS

(BLEEDING HEART)

It is very difficult to grow clumps of this old favorite such as Holland used to send us. The roots we ship are strong, producing excellent plants which sell on sight when in bloom.

Selected clumps, per 100.....$45.00

Quite Often

—A seedsman sees a fine new variety of bulbs or plants, either here or abroad, which he likes to feature in his catalogue.

Quite often, however, the stock is too small, or import barriers block his freedom of offering it. He has no nursery, nor the time to devote to propagation and culture.

If you have such a problem, we invite you to take the matter up with us. Perhaps our nursery in Massachusetts, or the one in the coastal region of Virginia, can grow the item for you, under an exclusive contract, and at relatively small expense to you.

MONTBRETIAS

(Dec.-April shipment)

These are very similar in growth to Gladioli and require about the same cultural treatment. They are hardy south of Philadelphia, giving a great profusion of blooms from July on until frost. In a small way it is a profitable florists' cutflower during the Summer and it makes a very satisfactory addition to the garden when planted in clumps of 10 to 15 bulbs.

SPIRAEAS

(Forcing clumps ready in November. Garden varieties shipped until April 1st)

The hardy Astilbes are exceptionally fine garden material. Seedsmen should not fail to list these satisfactory plants, sure to grow, to bloom and to increase in beauty year after year. Splendid for beds and borders. Hardly ever troubled with insect enemies. The clean glossy leaves are an ornament in any perennial border. We recommend: Brunhilde, Ceres, Juno, Kriemhilde, Philadelphia, Venus and Vesta.

Spiraea thrive wonderfully under the cool climate of Northern New England, making solid clumps set in many strong flower and leaf buds. Grown without irrigation but with plenty of sub-soil moisture when needed.

A WELL-GROWN SPIRAEA is one of the most attractive and decorative plants. It can be sold at a reasonable price and still it makes a big show for the money. For decorating hotels, churches and homes at Easter time or graves on Decoration Day, it is very charming and effective. If the pot is not sold, the flowers may be cut for wreaths and sprays while the abundant leaves provide elegant greenery.

If you have a retail store connected with your greenhouses, keep some Spiraea in a cool house for sale after Easter. There is always a call for them, especially if you tell your customer that she can plant the Spiraea, after blooming, in her garden, where it will prove to be hardy and will bloom there many years in a border or other semi-shady place. Besides that, a few fine Spiraea provide inexpensive yet attractive window dressing.

Upon request we will pack 12, 25, 50 or 100 extra clumps in neat cases and place them in Boston or New York cold storage for very late forcing.

LILY OF THE VALLEY

We specialize in the finest forcing Valley grown in Germany, and are ready at all times to match our grades with any one else's. We have handled Valley for more than 30 years in ever-increasing quantities. We know, as far as human knowledge can determine, what is good cold-storage Valley and where the best stocks are grown. We do not take consignments and do not simply cable an order over. Our Holland house sends its men into the fields in Germany at digging time, to inspect the crop and to see that what goes into the cases is first class in every respect. The smallest case, containing 250 pips, is of just as fine a quality as the case of 2,000. We pack in cases of 250, 500, 1,000 and 2,000 pips and we usually carry a stock in cold storage all the year around. Advance orders placed by customers before the shipping season starts, are packed separately in Germany. Shipping dates are scrupulously observed by us all the year around.

Prices on Valley pips vary according to quality. It is clear that we cannot specialize in top grades and meet prices on other qualities, but we assure our customers that our prices are low for the select stock we send out.

The 1927 crop of top grade Valley is below normal.

		Per Case
In cases of	250 .....	$12.00
" " "	500 .....	22.00
" " "	1,000 .....	42.00
" " "	2,000 .....	80.00

The above prices are for stock which we must carry in cold storage, subject to customers' call.

We can allow 10 per cent. off these prices if customers take possession of their shipments immediately on arrival from Germany in December.

TUBEROSES

(January-April delivery)

We offer a very select stock of dwarf double Tuberoses "The Pearl," an old favorite which is regaining its place in many flower stores. It will never be a quantity item, but a proportionately large profit can be made on a small outlay by planting 500 or 1,000 bulbs. For perfect flowers plant bulbs in pots in May, plunge these outside and bring back in cool house just before frost.

Extra selected bulbs, large .....	$40.00 per 1,000

VAN WAVEREN'S SELECTED VALLEY

AMARYLLIS

(October-April delivery)

The old Hippeastrums have been improved wonderfully the last ten years until now we have a strain which holds its flowers at right angles from the stalk, and the green color has largely been eliminated by careful breeding. The domestic supply is growing rapidly so that seedsmen can safely devote more catalogue space to this satisfactory bulbous house plant. In the flower store a few blooming plants in different colors never fail to draw customers' admiration.
